

Department of Mathematics and Statistics Internship Evening

Please join the Department of Mathematics and Statistics

Tuesday, December 13, 2005

5:30pm to 7:00pm

Bentley Lounge, Gray Hall

for this year's presentations of internship projects by our students.

Students include:

Minsun Kim

who interned at the National Academy of Sciences presenting:

Assessment of the teaching of STEM to college students

David Greenberg

who interned at the Ezra Company presenting her paper:

Financial Aspects of Commercial Real Estate

Cathy Furlong

who interned at the Smithsonian Institution presenting:

What Factors Predict the Amount of Overlap of Collectors of Herbaria?

Pizza and soft drinks will be served