

43rd Washington Asia Forum
Asia Council of American University

A Japanese Foreign Policy From Peace
Research Perspectives@

Hideki Tamai
Soka University, Japan

Tuesday
January 28, 2003

2:00p.m.

Hughes Hall
Room 102

Hideki Tamai is currently an associate professor at the Soka University Peace Research Institute. He has spent his time as a visiting scholar at American University's School of International Service (September 2002-February 2003) researching academic programs in conflict management and mediation. He has published several books and articles, including Peace Studies for Global Citizenship (1999), The Meaning of Conflict Transformation in Conflict Resolution Process@ (1996), and a series of articles on Peace Movements in Israel@ (1992-1995).

Professor Tamai earned a B.A. in sociology and an M.A. in studies of international society at Soka University, Tokyo. He studied for his Ph.D. at Lund University, Sweden.

For further information, contact Asia Council Chair, Professor Quansheng Zhao or Aria Bailey (202-885-1760)

