

59th Washington Asia Forum

Center for Asian Studies of American University

“The Idea of Democracy in US-China Relations”

Xiang Lanxin
Institute of International Studies, Switzerland

Tuesday
December 2, 2003

5:30pm

Butler Conference Room

Xiang Lanxin is a distinguished Professor of International History and Politics serving at the Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva Switzerland. He is currently holding the Henry A. Kissinger Chair of Foreign Policy and International Affairs, Library of Congress. Prof. Lanxin is also a Co-director of Eurasia Centre and Zijiang Chair Professor at East China Normal University in Shanghai. He has numerous publications including: The Origins of the Boxer War, Mao's Generals and Recasting the Imperial Far East. He received his PhD from Johns Hopkins University.

For further information, contact the Director of the Center for Asian Studies, Professor Quansheng Zhao or Aria Bailey (202-885-1760)