

64th Washington Asia Forum

Center for Asian Studies of American University

“Japan in East Asia: Policy Choices and Security Allies”

Hideki Yamaji
Embassy of Japan

Tuesday
February 24, 2004

2:00pm

SIS Lounge

Hideki Yamaji is the First Secretary at the Embassy of Japan in the United States and currently a visiting fellow at the Brookings Institution researching number of issues including Japan's role in the U.S.-Japan security alliance, Japanese perspectives on future U.S.-Japan-South Korea cooperation, and Japanese nonproliferation policy. He entered the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan (MOFA) in 1986 and has served this agency in various capacities for the past eighteen years. He received his B.A. from Waseda University of Japan and his M.A. in International Relations from Australian National University.

For further information, contact the Director of the Center for Asian Studies, Professor Quansheng Zhao or Aria Bailey (202-885-1760)