

COUNCIL ON COMPARATIVE STUDIES

59th Forum

CENTER FOR ASIAN STUDIES

70th Forum

“Identity Politics and Nation Building: A Southeast Asian Focus”

Pek Koon Heng
Assistant Professor, SIS

Wednesday

April 14, 2004

10:00 a.m.

Bentley Lounge, Gray Hall

Heng Pek Koon, Assistant Professor in the School of International Service, is the SIS faculty director of the Globalization in Southeast Asia program in Malaysia. She received her B.A. and M.A. from Auckland University in New Zealand, and her Ph. D. from the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London. Within international relations and comparative politics, her specialization is political economy and social change in Southeast Asia. The focus of Professor Heng's current research is ethnicity and identity politics, especially in Malaysia.