GAME 30 COLGATE (15-13/6-8 PATRIOT LEAGUE)

Sunday, March 7 - 7:30 p.m.
(Show Place Arena) Upper Marlboro, Md.

LAST OUTING

AU 65 - Army 48 (3/6/04); Show Place Arena

American University men's basketball raced out to a 22-3 advantage to start the game and then cruised in a 65-48 win over Army in the quarterfinals of the Patriot League Championship Tournament Saturday at Show Place Arena.

AU held the Black Knights to 29 percent shooting in the opening period, compared to 54 percent shooting for the Eagles, to build up a 39-21 lead at the half. American held Army scoreless for 5:21 after the Black Knights' Josh Wilson hit a free throw at the 16:27 mark of the first. Meanwhile, AU went on a 12-0 run to build up a 22-3 lead.

"I thought we started off the game with a great deal of energy," AU Head Coach Jeff Jones said. "When we really gear up on the defensive end, the ball tends to go in the basket on the offensive end."

Andres Rodriguez led four Eagles in double-figures with 16 points. Andre Ingram and Jason Thomas had 13 points a piece.

The win was the fifth consecutive for American. AU had not won five straight games since the 1991-92 season.

Josh Wilson scored 16 points for Army, which finishes its season 6-21.

DID YOU KNOWII?

With the victory over Army on 2/26/04 American has guaranteed themselves a winning record, the third straight under head coach Jeff Jones. The last time AU had three straight winning seasons was from 1988-89 thru 1990-91.

A GLOBAL ROSTER

American is a global university with students from more than 150 countries world-wide. That effect has trickled down to the men's basketball roster, which features seven student-athletes from outside the United States. Matej Cresnik (Slovenia), Arvydas Eitutavicius (Lithuania) Ryan Graham (Canada), Linas Lekavicius (Lithuania), Patrick Okpwa (Cameroon), Raimondas Petrauskas (Lithuania) and Andres Rodriguez (Puerto Rico) all add an international flavor to the roster.

American University

Head Coach Jeff Jones

One of the most respected teachers in the collegiate ranks, Jones took the helm of American basketball on April 17, 2000, becoming the 17th coach in the school's history.

In just three seasons as head coach, Jeff Jones has put his stamp on American University basketball, molding and rejuvenating a program that has a proud past, and is now looking at a bright future.

Three words have been associated with Jones since his days as a top-level student-athlete—Leader, Teacher, and Winner—and those could not be truer today as he begins his fourth season at the helm in 2003-04.

The 2002-03 season simply built on the huge success of 2001-02. The Eagles competed in the Patriot League for the second year and again found themselves in the championship game playing Holy Cross on ESPN. Other highlights included defeating Atlantic 10 and hometown rival George Washington, finishing second in the Patriot League regular season and again competing very well against a national schedule versus the likes of Missouri and Virginia Tech.

It was in Jones' second year that he really made his mark and helped usher American into a new chapter of its basketball history, as the University became a member of the Patriot League. Stepping into the unknown, coupled with 10 new players dotting the roster, Jones and the Eagles racked up a laundry list of accomplishments, putting the program backing the spotlight. The season could be considered a whirlwind, as American was coming off a disappointing 2000-01 campaign and was picked by many to finish in the second tier of the Patriot League. As each small success built on the one prior, the campaign culminated with a berth in the Patriot League Championship game in front of a national audience on ESPN. March 8, 2002, will be remembered as the finale to an outstanding season, but for Jones and the Eagles, it promises to be a small part of something much larger.

Noted for his ability to connect with his players and meld a unit that competes as one, Jones mentored American to the second largest turnaround in the NCAA Division I 2001-02 season, finishing with an 18-12 overall record. The 11-game improvement from 2000-2001 was second only to Bob Knight's Texas Tech squad that featured a 14-game turnaround. The 18 victories were the highest win total for the program since 1989-90, and its first winning campaign since 1990-91. The Eagles went on to capture the Patriot League regular-season title, fashioning a 10-4 record in the process. The top seed in the league tournament, the Eagles advanced to the championship game, where they fell to Holy Cross, 55-52, before the largest crowd in league history and just the second sellout in the history of AU's Bender Arena.

The accomplishments did not, by any stretch of the imagination, begin and end within the confines of the Patriot League. American gained national recognition with a 77-72 win at Florida State on Dec. 22, 2000 becoming the first Patriot League school ever to defeat a member of the renowned Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC).

Jones has made his mark on the national college basketball scene as both a student-athlete and as head coach. Following a storied high school career, he went on to star at point guard for the University of Virginia from 1978-82. After graduation he served eight seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater before being tabbed the Cavaliers' head coach prior to the 1990-91 campaign. He would go on to lead that program for eight seasons.

Just prior to coming to American, Jones served as an assistant on Jerry DeGregorio's staff at the University of Rhode Island during the 1999-2000 season.

Named the eighth coach in Virginia men's basketball history at the ACC Championship and four 20-win campaigns. Virginia's win over Virginia Tech during the 1994-95 regular season gave Jones his 100th career victory, making him the second-fastest in school history and fifth-fastest in ACC history to accomplish the feat.

A coach with distinct style, the cornerstone of Jones' teams has been their defensive prowess. During his tenure at Virginia, he led the Cavaliers to five of the top six seasons for field goals percentage defense.

Virginia made its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance in seven seasons under Jones in 1996-97. Finishing that season with an overall mark of 18-13, the Cavaliers fell to Iowa in a West Region first-round game.

Jones enjoyed one of the finest seasons of his coaching career in 1994-95, leading Virginia to a final mark of 25-9. The program advanced to the NCAA Tournament's "Elite Eight" and earned a share of its first ACC regular-season crown since 1983. Virginia finished that season ranked eighth in the final CNN/USA Today poll, and 13th in the final Associated Press media poll. Those were the highest final national rankings by a Virginia team since 1983.

In 1992-93 Jones became the only coach in conference history to win at least 20 games in each of his first three seasons. He led Virginia to a 21-10 record (9-7 ACC) and a trip to the 1993 East Region semifinals in the NCAA Tournament.

In 1991-92, Jones' Cavaliers posted a 20-13 record and went on to win the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) championship. As a result, Jones became the first individual to win an NIT title as both a player and a coach; he is still the only person to accomplish the feat. In his first season as the head coach at Virginia, Jones led the 1990-91 squad to a 21-12 overall record. He was the only rookie coach in the nation that year to have his team in the NCAA Tournament.

Prior to his eight-year run as the head coach, Jones was a full-time assistant on Terry Holland's staff at Virginia staff at a UVa from 1986 to 1990, a part-time assistant for three seasons and a graduate assistant for one. The Cavaliers compiled an incredible overall record of 162-95 (.630) during those eight seasons as an assistant, participating in six NCAA Tournaments, while advancing to the Final Four in 1984 and the Final Eight in 1989. Virginia also competed in one National Invitation Tournament (NIT) during his tenure.

As a four-year starter (1972-82) at Virginia, Jones was known as a leader and prolific passer. With Jones at the controls of a potent offense, UVa compiled an overall record of 102-28 (.785), while he led the Cavaliers to two NCAA Tournaments and two NITs during his career. Virginia captured the 1980 NIT title, and advanced to the NCAA Final Four in 1981. Jones graduated from Virginia in 1982 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology.

Jones finished his career as Virginia's all-time assists leader (598), and his 200 assists during the 1979-80 season was UVa's single-season record until both marks were later broken by John Crotty. Jones served as the team captain as a senior during the 1981-82 season and played in 129 games during his career. For his career, he averaged 6.6 points and 4.6 assists per game, while shooting 52.2 percent from the field and 74.3 percent from the free-throw line.

A native of Owensboro, KY, Jones is a member of Apollo High School Hall of Fame. His father, Bob, is a former coach of Kentucky Wesleyan University, which he led to the 1973 NCAA Division II title.

Jones and his wife, Danielle, reside in Arlington, Va. He is the father of three children—Meghann (15), Madison Perry (13), and Jeffrey Robert (10).

Patriot League Honors

Senior guard Andres Rodriguez was named First Team All-Patriot League while freshman Andre Ingram was selected as both the 2004 Patriot League Freshman of the Year and to the All-Freshman Team. The voting was conducted by the Patriot League's coaches and was announced by PL officials on March 1, 2004.

Rodriguez has had a sensational season and has broken several records for the Eagles this season. He has dished out 210 assists, which is the second-best season in AU history just behind Gordon Austin's total of 247 (1982-83). He is fourth on the career ladder with 450 assists and his season-high of 19 assists against Navy on Jan. 14 is the best in Division I this year. He also has 72 steals this season, which is the sixth-best season in AU history and his career total of 158 is good for tenth all-time. He is currently third in the nation in assists per game at 7.5 and he has played 40 minutes or more on nine occasions this season. He is in seventh place in League history in assists (443) and he is in 12th place in steals (157).

Ingram quickly went from freshman to the Eagles leading scorer at 14.1 points per game. He led the Eagles in three-pointers made (75), three-pointers attempted (188) and finished the regular season just five points shy of 400. He had at least one three-pointer in 20 straight games and his best effort was against Navy on Jan. 14 when he connected on eight of them. He had a pair of double-doubles this season and his total of 75 treys is the seventh-best single-season in AU history. He finished fourth in the league in scoring (14.1 ppg.) and first in three-pointers made with 75.

"I am very happy for both of them. We asked Andres (Rodriguez) to really step it up this year and he certainly did," said American University head coach Jeff Jones. "Andre (Ingram) needed to be a scorer for us this year and he ended up being our leading scorer."
