

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF PERFORMING ARTS
MUSIC PROGRAM

INFORMATION ABOUT MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS

All students who audition for before the faculty audition panel, either in person or by audio recording, will automatically be considered for scholarships awarded by the AU Music Program. Scholarships are principally awarded to majors, but special consideration is made for exceptional non-majors and minors. Awards range from one thousand to several thousand dollars, depending on funding availability and program needs.

Awards include:

- General Music Scholarships
For all majors, minors, and non-major ensemble performers
- Esther Ballou Memorial Scholarships
For music students
- David Wainhouse Memorial Scholarships
For undergraduate students in music
- The Mary Howe-Hans Kindler Memorial Scholarship
For music student assistance in composing, playing, or service to the program
- The Lylian Evans String Scholarship
Awarded annually to a major in string performance

The faculty makes consideration for scholarships each spring and initial award offers are made usually no later than mid-April.

For more information about the Music Program and the American University Department of Performing Arts, please see our web site at www.american.edu/perf_arts or call the Music Admissions Coordinator's Office at 202.885.3421.