

14. A 3800-kg jet touches down at 240 km/h on the deck of an aircraft carrier, and immediately deploys a parachute to slow itself down. If the plane comes to a stop in 170 m, what is the average force of air on the parachute? Assume the parachute provides essentially all the stopping force.